

Lesson 6

"The Mole Hole"

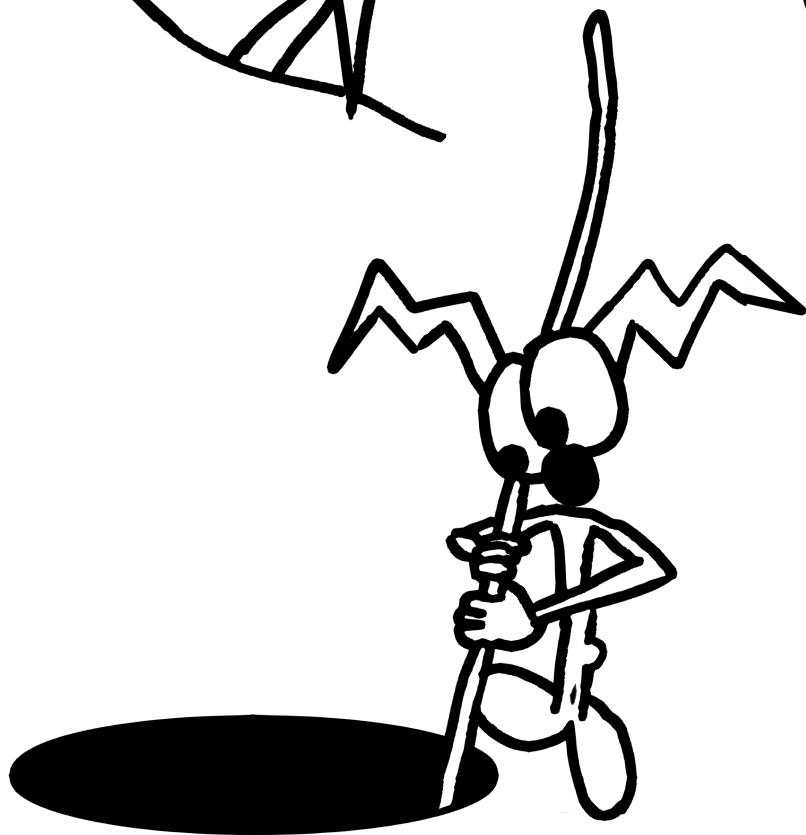

long o

consonant - vowel - consonant - e
some -old words

Dan and Rat The Cat rode a bike to Pine Lake. At the lake Rat saw a big hole.

"A mole hole Dan!" said Rat. "A big mole hole!"

"If I had a pole I could get the mole," said Rat. So Dan gave Rat a pole.

Rat put the pole into the hole, but Rat could not get the mole.

"If I had a rope I could get the mole," said Rat. So Dan gave Rat a rope, but Rat could not get the mole.

The hole was too big.

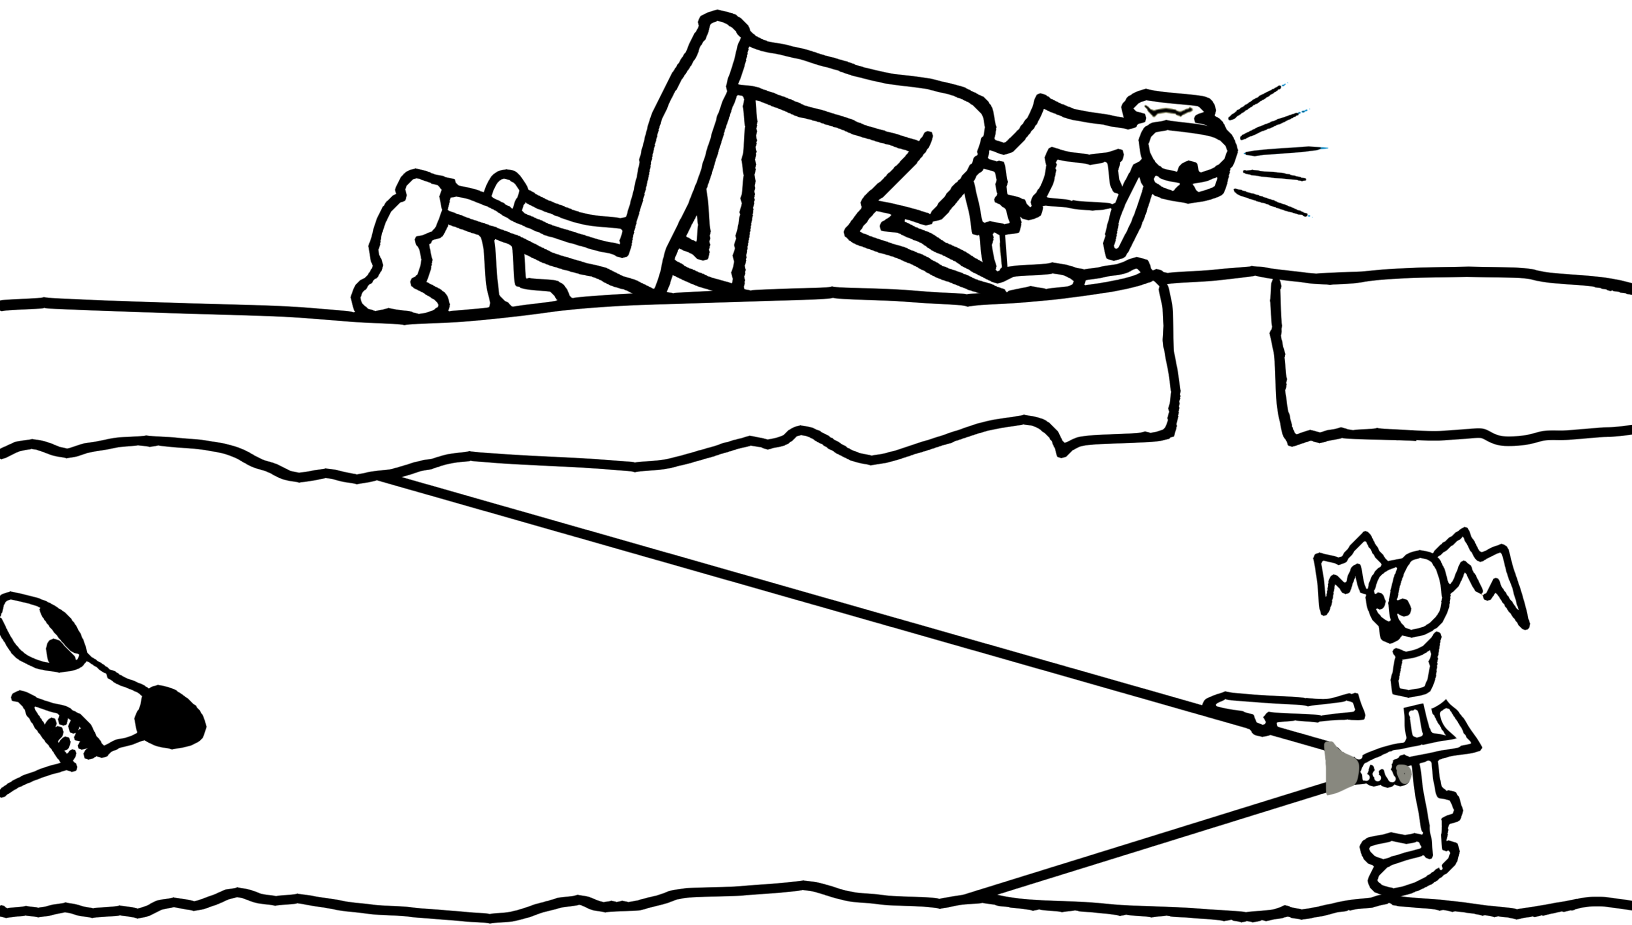

"Get into the hole," said Dan.

Rat got angry.

"Is that a joke?" Rat asked Dan.

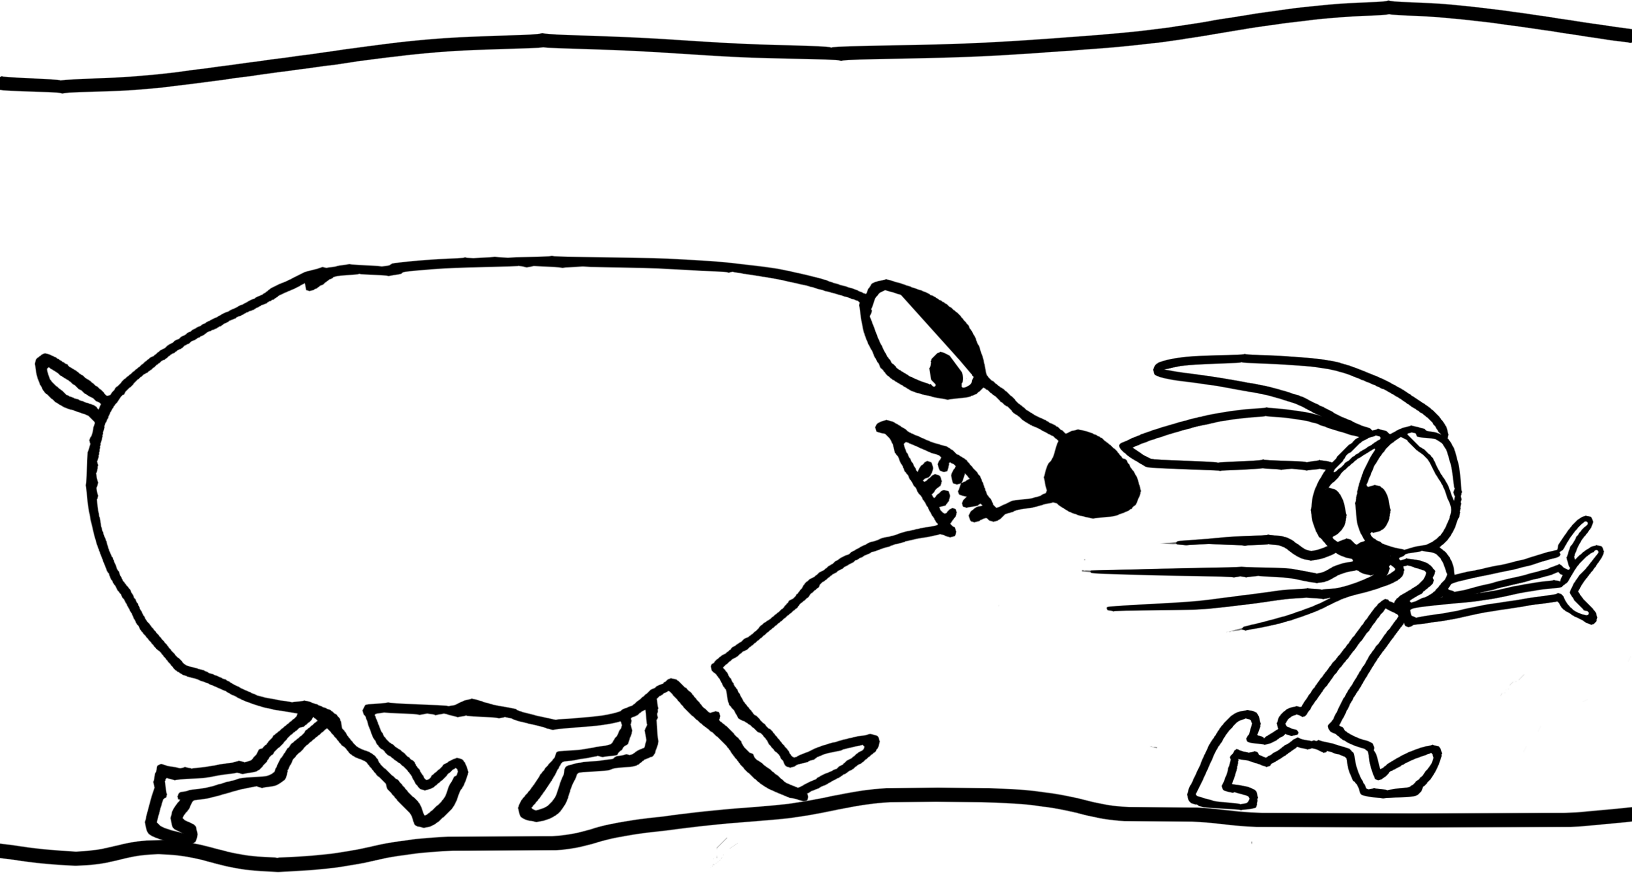

"Nope," said Dan. "I will hold the rope."

Rat did go down the rope into the hole.

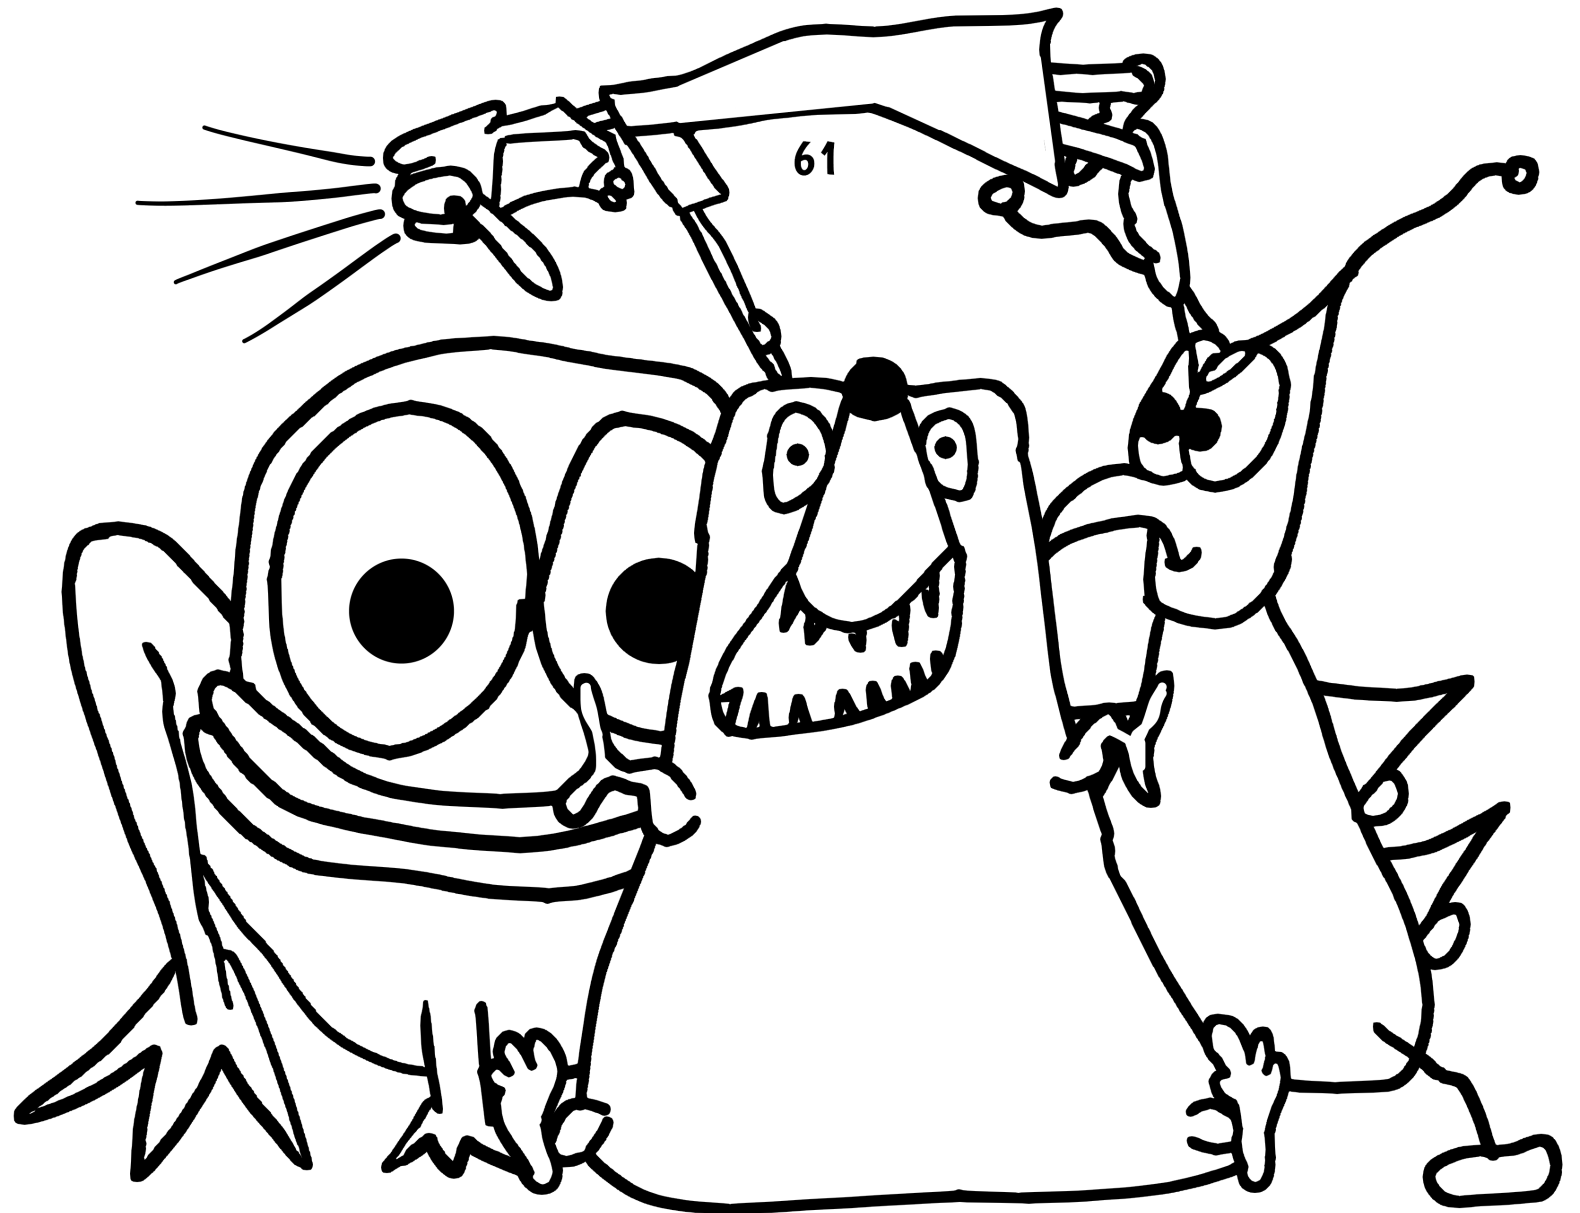

"I hope Rat can get back up the rope!" said Dan.

In the hole was an old gold mine.

Rat did take a bit of the gold, but a big mole came up to Rat in the hole.

"Aaaaah!" yelled Rat. "A big mole! A big, big, BIG mole!" Rat ran.

"The gold is mine!" yelled the mole. Then the big mole ate Rat The Cat like an old dog bone. Then a bug ate the mole. Then a frog ate the bug. Then rain came. Strange...

Rat The Cat woke up. He was safe at home. The big mole was a bad, bad dream.

"But I did want the gold!" said Rat.

Vocabulary

hope	hole	mole	joke
poke	bone	rode	dome
rope	pole	role	wore
woke	tone	home	sore

-old endings

old	cold	hold	bold
gold	fold	told	sold

Weird Words

went	could	down	then
strange	rain	into	that
dream	that	yelled	frog

Add a silent E to these words to make a new word

pin	rid	hat	hop
fin	can	din	bit
cap	hid	mad	rod

Dictation

The rope is tan.

I like to jog home.

The bold mole can hide in the log.

I can poke the tame ape.

The old man is not at home.

The old dog has a cold bone.

I hope it is not cold.

The joke is bad.

The mole is in the hole.

Rat can hold the pole.

Jane can hold the gold.

Sam sold an old dog bone.

The old mole has a cold, gold cat.

The pole was in the mole hole.

The rope was on the box.

Dan rode his bike to the old pole.