"The Ten Men"

short e
consonant - vowel - consonant

Ten men met Dan and Rat by the side of a big jet. The men were led by Ted, a big, rude man. Ted wore a big red hat. Rat did not like Ted, and Rat did not like the nine men with Ted.

NO ONE CAN PET RAT!

"We want to pet Rat The Cat!" said Ted.

"No one can pet Rat The Cat!" said Dan. "Rat bit the last man who tried, and he will bite you too!"

"Want to bet Dan?" said Ted.

"No," said Dan. "But if I let you pet Rat he will bite you and you WILL NOT like it! Then you will be angry with us and hate us!"

"Get a net!" yelled Ted. "We will get Rat The Cat and we WILL pet that cat!"

The nine men ran and got a net.
Now Rat was in the net!

Rat The Cat did not like the net.
He did not like the ten men, and he did NOT like Ted, the big man in the red hat. So as Ted bent to pet Rat, Rat bit Ted—on the nose!

"Now Ted is red!" said Dan. Ted was angry. Very angry.

"Get him!" yelled Ted to the nine men. All ten men now ran at Rat The Cat.

Dan and Rat ran past the ten men to the big jet.

Safe on the jet, Dan fed Rat The Cat. Then Dan tried to pet Rat.

NO WAY! OUCH!

A LOVE POEM
